

17-YEAR-OLD EAST BERLIN GIRL INJURED

Miss Lillian Burgard Struck By Auto, Suffers Broken Left Arm.

FACE BRUISES

Struck and dragged by an automobile in front of her home in East Berlin, Friday evening, Miss Lillian Burgard, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Burgard, suffered a fracture of the left arm, near the shoulder, and lacerations about the face.

The girl alighted from an Adams transit company bus in front of her home, and walked around behind the machine out into the middle of the highway when she was hit by a machine, driven by P. E. Copenhaver, of Taneytown R. 1.

According to Patrolman J. G. Warren, of Gettysburg, who investigated, the girl apparently became confused when she reached the middle of the highway, and started to retrace her steps. Copenhaver, the officer said, believing the girl would continue across the street, swerved his car to the left to avoid hitting her. In doing so, however, the machine knocked Miss Burgard down and dragged her ten or fifteen feet, the officer said.

Was Driving Slow
Copenhaver was driving between 25 and 30 miles an hour when his car struck the girl, the officer said. The victim was brought to the Warner hospital, Friday evening, where her injuries were dressed. She was admitted as a patient.

The accident happened about 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. At 7:30 o'clock when Patrolman Warren arrived the girl was lying on a couch and had not received medical attention. Dr. Eugene Elgin was out of town and another physician called. It was not until later in the evening that the girl was removed to the local hospital.

No charge has been made against Copenhaver.

FACE IS CUT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. Mark Shriver, of near Gettysburg, was cut about the face by flying glass when the automobile of her brother-in-law, Raymond Shriver, and driven by her husband, crashed into a tree on Fourth street at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Shriver is said to have misjudged the speed of the light touring car when he turned into Fourth street from York street, and was unable to stop before running into the tree. A front tire was punctured and the front end of the car was damaged by the impact.

Young Runaways Are Apprehended

Traveling from Gary, Ind., to Jeannette, Pa., in a light car, and hitch-hiking it eastward thereafter, Alfred Pedro, 21, and Miss Mamie Walters, 15, who passed through Gettysburg Thursday, were picked up in Hanover at 3:30 o'clock Friday morning by Officers Wine and Murphy as suspicious characters. Pedro was placed in the borough lockup and Miss Walters was placed in the care of the Hanover Y. W. C. A.

When questioned by Officer Fleagle a confession was made by Pedro that he had enticed Miss Walters away from her home in Gary, where she was a boarder. Officers of the Y. W. C. A. conferred with Herb B. Kain at York, who came to Hanover and took the young couple to York, where Pedro was placed in the York county jail and Miss Walters in the care of the Society to Protect Children and Aged Persons. Miss Walters expressed a desire to return to her home.

ELECTRICIAN IS BITTEN BY DOG

While repairing a meter at the home of Mrs. Amalgam Sease, Railroad street, Friday, Maurice Stoops, 21, of Iron Springs, was bitten on the right leg by a dog. Stoops, an employee of the Metropolitan Edison electric company here, was taken to the Warner hospital where the wound was dressed after which he was discharged as a patient.

2 Bus Drivers Are Fined $10 For Speeding

Two drivers of motor buses operating through Gettysburg and the operator of a motor truck were arrested Friday on the York road about two miles east of Hanover on charges of driving at excessive rates of speed and each paid a fine of $10 and costs amounting to $25 when taken before Justice of the Peace Lewis D. Sell, Hanover, before whom the information had been laid by Harry W. Wolfe, of the state highway patrol. Joseph P. McCloskey, Philadelphia, driver of a bus of the Colonial Stages, was charged with operating the bus at a speed of 45 miles an hour. Jack Croatow, Bridgeville, was charged with driving a bus of the Nevin line at a speed of 50 miles per hour. The third man arrested was L. P. Skipper, Hampstead, Md., who was charged with operating his truck at a speed of 54 miles per hour.

SAFE BRIDGES ARE URGED BY MOTOR OFFICIAL

Many Of Antiquated Type Remain Presenting A Menace To Motorists.

CITES MISHAPS

All bridges on the state highway system should be made safe for use by every vehicle that is legally on the road, in the opinion of S. Edward Gable, president of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation. Mr. Gable said today that, while state, county and public utility authorities are steadily replacing old bridges, far too many of the antiquated type remain, constituting a menace to all users of the highways on which they are located.

"The recent disaster on Route 222 between Lancaster and Reading, when a bridge over the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad collapsed, killing one motorist and injuring eight, brought forcefully to the attention of the public a rather general condition that should be remedied as fast as finances and facilities permit," the federation head stated. "The proper authorities should see to it that at once that spans under their jurisdiction are in good condition. Any that are at all questionable should be reinforced or rebuilt."

Many Inadequate

"Many bridges now in use were constructed before the era of the automobile and the motor truck and are inadequate for present-day traffic. Some are posted with weight-limitation warnings, but this does not keep off all trucks of greater tonnage. Such trucks, of course, cross at their own risk, but in so doing naturally weaken the structure, making it less safe for all other vehicles."

In this connection Mr. Gable raised the question of legality of posting bridges on public highways with weight-limitation warnings. "Competent lawyers advise me," he said, "that they can find nothing in the laws of Pennsylvania giving the authorities power to limit the carrying capacity of bridges, especially when the state permits on the road and extracts heavy license fees from vehicles with gross tonnage up to 36,000 pounds." Continuing, the federation head asserted:

"Regular inspections are made of all the main highway bridges, of course, but sometimes, as apparently was the case with the Lancaster-Reading route span, a weakened condition develops after an inspection."

"Rotten and unsafe bridges have no right to exist in this day, with travel exceptionally heavy at all times and steadily increasing. Better (Continued on Second Page).

Planes Still Searching For Missing Craft

Winslow, Ariz., Sept. 7 (AP).—Two desolate and widely separated regions, one in Southern California and the other in Old Mexico, today commanded the attention of searchers for the lost air liner, City of San Francisco.

Southern California searchers seized upon an unconfirmed report that a plane, flashing its lights on and off, was seen over the mountain seven miles north of Bagdad last Tuesday evening.

Some doubt was expressed that the plane seen in this section was the San Francisco. Air officials thought the plane might have been one of several in that vicinity Tuesday afternoon.

Searchers believed that inasmuch as the plane did not land at Winslow, the pilots might have reached as far west as Bagdad, California, before the fuel supply was exhausted. The plane was last seen at Grant, New Mexico, somewhat off its course and heading southward.

2 New Pavilions For Mont Alto

In connection with the appropriations recently announced for state institutions, $151,200 was included for additional buildings to the state sanatorium at Mont Alto.

Dr. R. H. McCutcheon, in charge at the sanatorium, said two pavilions to accommodate 40 patients will be constructed.

The two pavilions will be used as admission and observation wards, one for men and the other for women. The patients will be placed in these pavilions for thirty days to determine whether they will be confined to cottages or bed infirmaries.

According to Dr. McCutcheon, the improvements will not be started until next spring.

Dog Is Shot; Suit Filed

"Tit for tat, butter for fat, if you shoot my dog, I'll sue you—and that's that."

This paraphrase of an old familiar jingle may have been the inspiration for a damage action begun in the court of common pleas here, Friday afternoon, by J. L. Howe, Mt. Pleasant township. And again it may not.

Nevertheless, Attorney John P. Butt, representing Howe, filed a statement of claim in an action of trespass in the office of S. L. Allison, naming Mrs. Harry Spangler, also of Mt. Pleasant township, as the defendant.

Not that Mrs. Spangler actually shot the dog. The statement of claim sets forth that "by her son and agent," Lester Spangler, the fox hound was "put on the spot" and shot.

An answer to the suit has not yet been filed, but at the court house it was said that Spangler shot the animal because, it is said, it was trespassing on the Spangler farm, which adjoins the Howe place.

Now a jury will be asked to decide the facts in the case, probably at the November term of court. Attorney Eugene V. Bullitt, of Gettysburg, represents the Spanglers.

Divide Costs In Assault Squabble

Costs of $26.50 were divided between the defendant and the prosecutors at a hearing before Justice of the Peace John H. Deatrick, Biglerville, Friday, when Leroy Warner, Biglerville, was arraigned on charges of assault and battery and disorderly conduct. The prosecutors were Dale Robert and Roy Slaybaugh, Aspers' R. 1. Warner was arrested by Trooper J. E. Hobbs and Officer George Aughinbaugh.

Abundant Curb Offerings Today

Offerings of farm, garden and orchard products were abundant on curb market this morning. Prices for the leading offerings were quoted as follows:

Lima beans, 35, cents a quart; string beans, 15 cents a quarter peck; eggs, 45 cents a dozen; butter, 45 cents a pound; dressed chickens, $1 to $1.75 each; peaches, $1.50 to $2 a bushel; corn, 25 to 35 cents a dozen; potatoes, $2.25 a bushel; cucumbers, 50 to 80 cents a hundred; grapes, $2 a bushel; elderberries, 5 cents a box, and spring chickens, 50 cents a pound.

2 Have Tonsils Removed Today

Philip Oyer and Ira Williams, Jr., both of Gettysburg, submitted to tonsil operations at the Warner hospital this morning. Ruth Lochbaum, Orttanna, Miss Anne Bowling, Gettysburg; Mrs. Robert Heintzelman, Gettysburg, and Miss Lillian Burgard, East Berlin, also were admitted as patients.

Mrs. Fred Little and infant daughter, Gettysburg Route 7, were discharged as patients.

Races 328 Miles Per Hour In Air

Ryde, Isle of Wright, Sept. 7 (AP).—With her aviators speeding faster than any human being had ever traveled before and setting a new world record for the Schneider cup race, Great Britain today successfully defended the Schneider trophy against Italy in the tenth anniversary of its running.

Flying Officer H. R. D. Waghorn set a new course record with an average speed of 328.63 miles an hour, surpassing the previous record of Lieutenant Webster, of Great Britain, in 1927 by 47.14 miles an hour.

Flying Officer L. R. Atcherley surpassed the record of his comrade on one of his laps and set a new one with a mark of 332.49 miles per hour, the fastest time ever made anywhere by man.

Waghorn had previously made 331 miles an hour in one of his laps.

Italy was overwhelmed by the flashing British pilots. Warrant Officers Thomas Dal Molin was the only one of Italy's three entrants to finish and his average was only 294.20 miles per hour over the course.

Furnish Bail On Liquor Charge

Joseph Newcomer and Bruce Smith, both of Glen Rock, were released under $500 bail each this morning after hearings on charges of violating the prohibition laws. E. F. Roser, also of Glen Rock, similarly charged, was unable to furnish bail, and is still in custody in the Adams county jail.

The trio were arrested here early Friday morning by Officer Paul B. Shearer and Trooper J. E. Hobbs, of the state police.

A search of the car, owned by Newcomer, revealed four pints of alleged liquor, which was seized by state police. The car was confiscated.

Stolen Car Is Still Unclaimed

Although District of Columbia police have been notified of the recovery of a presumably stolen sedan at Graefenberg inn, Corporal William Kasparovich, of the local state police, today said he has received no word from Washington concerning ownership of the machine. The car was abandoned by thieves who stole gasoline from a pump at the roadside stand of Jack Murray, near Graefenberg.

Former Countian Is Buried Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Helen Morrison Markley, of Boyertown, former resident of Benderville, were held Friday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Sieber, of Aspers. The Rev. S. J. Pittenger, of Benderville, officiated. The pallbearers were John Wilson, Alfred McCauslin, William Wilson, Glen Morrison, Benjamin Kelsey and Ralph McCauslin.

Wanted: Experienced driver with mechanical knowledge for proper maintenance of new six cylinder heavy duty truck. Distant city hauling. Good wages, regular employment. C. H. Muselman Company.

Call Taxi 312W local phone.

Former Countian Buried In Fairfield

Joseph Grimes, 81, a former resident of Adams county, who died early Thursday morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Vernon Lantz, Hagerstown, of a complication of diseases, was buried in the Fairfield cemetery this morning at 9:30 o'clock. Mr. Grimes resided in the vicinity of Knoxlyn for a number of years.

Surviving are three sons, Lem Grimes, near Knoxlyn; Joseph Grimes, Carlisle, and Edward Grimes, Orttanna, and two daughters, Mrs. Lantz, with whom he resided, and Mrs. Scott Naill, of Old Town, Maryland.

FOREST BLAZES OF INCENDIARY ORIGIN, CLAIM

Fires Near Hoover's Fishing Preserve Near Frederick Were Set.

FIRES PUT OUT

Forest fires, which have been burning in Catocin Mountain from the fishing preserve of Lawrence Richey, executive secretary to President Hoover, since Sunday afternoon, were entirely extinguished Thursday during the first drenching of any consequence for several weeks. Eighteen or twenty men, assigned to patrol work in the fire area by City Forester C. Cyril Klein, were recalled when it was certain that there was no longer danger of fresh outbreaks.

Of Incendiary Origin

The last fire, that in the Coffee Hollow section, which occupied the entire force of fire-fighters all of Wednesday night, was put under control at about 1 o'clock Thursday morning. The forester and his crew of men, however, remained in the mountain until daybreak, making certain that their work had been thorough. At that time Mr. Klein distributed his forest patrol. He returned to the fishing preserve, which he has been using as headquarters, returning to Frederick at about 2 o'clock Thursday.

Mr. Klein feels that there is no doubt but that the fires were of incendiary origin. He personally saw a man walking through the forests with a flashlight. At first Mr. Klein thought that he was a member of a fire crew, but later investigation showed a number of fires had been started at the place the man had been sighted. "Of course, they were set," Mr. Klein said. "There isn't any doubt about it. There were too many fires, at points remote from the main fire, to have been caused by wind-blown embers."

Penalties Increased

Attention has been called to the fact that a recent legislative act increased the penalty for conviction of setting timber fires from $100 to $1,000 and one year imprisonment to five years. No arrests, however, have been made in connection with the recent fire.

At one time Mr. Klein had about 100 men on duty in the mountain. With the exception of seven or eight men, used one night, all of the fire crews came from industrial plants and companies in Frederick, LeGore, Woodsboro and Thurmont. Very few residents from the vicinity of the fire were used.

Very effective work was done on Tuesday night by a force of 32 colporters, secured by Marshall Palm. The men were rushed to Catocin Furnace by automobile and reached the fire scene at a time when they were most needed, Mr. Klein said.

1500 Acres Burned

Not more than 1,500 acres of timberland were burned over, Mr. Klein feels. Of this amount 1,000 was on the fishing preserve and the remainder on several hundred acres belonging to Mr. Richey and Lancelot Jacques, Cavetown, Maryland. Much of the land burned over was of scrub pine. The damage to heavy timber was said not to be extensive.

Crews went into the mountains during the fire well equipped for their work. Mr. Klein stated. There was an adequate supply of rakes, brush hooks, torches and canteens. This equipment greatly enhanced the effectiveness of the men and was the means of preventing greater damage to timber sections.

Yellow Jackets Rout 'Em

Perhaps the only "casualties" sustained by the fire-fighters aside from minor bruises and cuts were those of a crew of city workmen. They ran into a nest of yellow jackets, which scattered the entire band. Before the men could make their escape a number had been stung four or five times.

HOME FROM CONVENTION

Harman Spence, Orttanna, and John Dotterer, Gettysburg, have returned from the annual state convention of the Order of Independent Americans at Norristown this week. Mr. Spence was secretary of the credentials committee of the convention, and Mr. Dotterer represented Battleground council, 717, delegate.

York Nurse, Shot By Jilted Suitor, Lived Here; Youth Suicides

Miss Florence Ramer, Visiting Nurse Of York, Formerly Resided In Gettysburg; Father Is Brother Of Local Men; Both Parents Were Born In This Vicinity.

The condition of Miss Florence E. Ramer, York visiting nurse, and a former resident of Gettysburg, who was shot three times by an unknown assailant, believed by police to be William Schweitzer, remains critical according to information from the York hospital.

Schweitzer, 24, a former suitor of Miss Ramer, who is reported to have been jilted by the young woman, was found dead at Weis's dam, four miles from York, Friday night. Schweitzer's body was found near the automobile in which he is believed to have fled after he is said by police to have fired the three shots into Miss Ramer's body.

The young woman's father, Charles Ramer, formerly conducted a bakery shop on Chambersburg street, near Washington street. He is a brother of Jacob Ramer, battlefield guide, and A. W. Ramer, Chambersburg street, proprietor of a lunch room.

Mrs. Ramer, mother of the girl, was formerly, Miss Edith Ertter. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ramer were both born and raised in this vicinity and resided in Gettysburg for many years. Several years ago Charles Ramer moved to York where he conducted a clothing store for some time.

Coroner L. U. Zech, of York, said that Schweitzer had committed suicide. He died of internal injuries caused by three bullet wounds in the chest. The bullets were of the same type as those fired into Miss Ramer's body, the coroner said.

Condition Is Serious

Miss Ramer is in a hospital and her condition is serious. She was shot three times by Schweitzer after he told her "if he couldn't have her no one else would." During a brief conversation on a street corner in York, Friday. Following the shooting, Schweitzer jumped into a borrowed automobile and sped away.

Miss Ramer was on her way to assist at an operation when she was accosted by Schweitzer. He asked her to accompany him, but she replied that this was impossible, due to her need at the side of the patient about to be operated upon. Then Schweitzer drew a revolver, shot the girl, jumped into an automobile and sped away. Police chased him but lost the trail just outside the city limits.

Find Letters and Poem

One of the bullets entered the woman's right wrist; a second her abdomen, while the third imbedded in her spine. Two of the bullets were found in a clothing store at York hospital. The bullet that entered the abdomen made exit from the left side of her body, while the shot that entered her wrist came out on the opposite side, fracturing the wrist bone.

Police say they found letters in Schweitzer's room that indicated he and the York nurse were friendly. A love poem to the girl was among the letters. Schweitzer was married but was divorced last June.

Schweitzer was a former football star on the York high school team. He was employed in York by a chain drug store and was recently transferred to a store in Pottstown. The car he was driving was borrowed from a Pottstown friend. He told his friend he had to go to York on business.

While detectives were scouring the county for Schweitzer, word that his body had been found was brought to York headquarters.

Famer Heard Shots

The statement of a farmer who lives near the scene of Schweitzer's suicide places the time of the fatal shooting at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon and evidence supplied by Stanley Eyster indicates that death was not instantaneous.

M. H. Gilbert, who has a farm at the foot of the hill at West's dam, said that he heard two shots during the afternoon but that he did not investigate. A short time later, Eyster, who was driving his automobile on the York-New Salem road, saw an automobile parked in some trees by the roadside and a man moving on the ground.

Eyster said that he thought the man was drunk and did not stop. Later, when he passed the same spot on his return home, Eyster said that he saw the same auto with the man, now quiet, lying about thirty feet from the spot at which he observed him previously. He did not stop this second time.

When he returned home, Eyster said, he picked up a newspaper and read of the shooting. Remembering the man by the roadside, he obtained a companion, O. N. Miller, garageman in New Salem, and returned.

York police were notified of the discovery and city detectives with the York county coroner investigated. The body was found with the gun by its side. Three of the chambers of the revolver had been discharged. It was capable of carrying five cartridges and two of the chambers were still loaded.

Police believe the man had driven to West's dam immediately after shooting the girl, reloaded the revolver and killed himself.

Freezing In Nebraska

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 7 (AP).—Snow lay from one to four inches deep in parts of Western Nebraska and the Black Hills region of South Dakota. Temperatures ranged near freezing and in some places dropped below.

Hay Springs, Neb., had the lowest temperature, according to unofficial reports, the mercury there reaching 26 degrees. Four inches of snow fell there. Sleet, which turned to snow, fell at Gordon, Neb., with the mercury below freezing.

Junior Bullets Will Be Organized Next Week

C. E. Bilheimer, athletic director at Gettysburg college, this morning announced that the Junior Bullets, the kiddy cheering organization of Gettysburg college, would be organized within the next ten days. Membership cards are being printed now and when they are ready for distribution a meeting of the Junior Bullets will be called at which each youngster under twelve years of age will be enrolled.

The Junior Bullets were conceived by Mr. Bilheimer last year. Every Gettysburg boy or girl under twelve years of age is eligible. Each youngster, upon application, is given a membership card. This card admits the holder to any athletic contest at Gettysburg college, free, during the 1929-1930 term. The contests include football, baseball, basketball and track. "The age limit is twelve years. 'The object of the organization is team work' said Mr. Bilheimer. "Team work between the boys and

Funeral services for Mrs. Helen Morrison Markley, of Boyertown, former resident of Bendersville, were held Friday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Sieber, of Aspers. The Rev. S. J. Fittenger, of Bendersville, officiated. The pallbearers were John Wilson, Alfred McCauslin, William Wilson, Glen Morrison, Benjamin Kelsey and Ralph McCauslin.

Wanted. Experienced driver with mechanical knowledge for proper maintenance of new six cylinder heavy duty truck. Distinct city hauling. Good wages, regular employment. C. H. Muselman Company.

Races 328 Miles Per Hour In Air

Ryde, Isle of Wright, Sept. 7 (AP).—With her aviators speeding faster than any human being had ever traveled before and setting a new world record for the Schneider cup race, Great Britain today successfully defended the Schneider trophy against Italy in the tenth anniversary of its running.

Flying Officer H. R. D. Waghorn set a new course record with an average speed of 328.63 miles an hour, surpassing the previous record of Lieutenant Webster, of Great Britain, in 1927 by 47.14 miles an hour.

Flying Officer L. R. Atcherley surpassed the record of his comrade on one of his laps and set a new one with a mark of 332.49 miles per hour, the fastest time ever made anywhere by man.

Waghorn had previously made 331 miles an hour in one of his laps.

Italy was overwhelmed by the flashing British pilots. Warrant Officer Thomas Dal Molin was the only one of Italy's three entrants to finish and his average was only 284.20 miles per hour over the course.

Furnish Bail On Liquor Charge

Joseph Newcomer and Bruce Smith, both of Glen Rock, were released under $500 bail each this morning after hearings on charges of violating the prohibition laws. E. F. Roser, also of Glen Rock, similarly charged, was unable to furnish bail, and is still in custody in the Adams county jail.

The trio were arrested here early Friday morning by Officer Paul E. Shesler and Trooper J. E. Hobbs, of the state police.

A search of the car, owned by Newcomer, revealed four pints of alleged liquor, which was seized by state police. The car was confiscated.

Stolen Car Is Still Unclaimed

Although District of Columbia police have been notified of the recovery of a presumably stolen sedan at Graeffenberg inn, Corporal William Kasparovich, of the local state police, today said he has received no word from Washington concerning ownership of the machine. The car was abandoned by thieves who stole gasoline from a pump at the roadside stand of Jack Murray, near Graeffenberg.

Former Countian Buried In Fairfield

Joseph Grimes, 81, a former resident of Adams county, who died early Thursday morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Vernon Lantz, Hagerstown, of a complication of diseases, was buried in the Fairfield cemetery this morning at 9:30 o'clock. Mr. Grimes resided in the vicinity of Knoxlyn for a number of years.

Surviving are three sons, Lem Grimes, near Knoxlyn; Joseph Grimes, Carlisle, and Edward Grimes, Orrtanna, and two daughters, Mrs. Lantz, with whom he resided, and Mrs. Scott Naill, of Old Town, Maryland.

FOREST BLAZES OF INCENDIARY ORIGIN, CLAIM

Fires Near Hoover's Fishing Preserve Near Frederick Were Set.

FIRES PUT OUT

Forest fires, which have been burning in Catoctin Mountain from the fishing creek watershed to the fishing preserve of Lawrence Richey, executive secretary to President Hoover, since Sunday afternoon, were entirely extinguished Thursday during the first drenching of any consequence for several weeks. Eighteen or twenty men, assigned to patrol work in the fire area by City Forester C. Cyril Klein, were recalled when it was certain that there was no longer danger of fresh outbreaks.

The last fire, that in the Coffee Hollow section, which occupied the entire force of fire-fighters all of Wednesday night, was put under control at about 1 o'clock Thursday morning. The forester and his crew of men, however, remained in the mountain until daylight, making certain that their work had been thorough. At that time Mr. Klein distributed his forest patrol. He returned to the Richey fishing preserve, which he has been using as headquarters, returning to Frederick at about 2 o'clock Thursday.

Mr. Klein feels that there is no doubt but that the fires were of incendiary origin. He personally saw a man walking through the forests with a flashlight. At first Mr. Klein thought that he was a member of a fire crew, but later investigation showed a number of fires had been started at the place the man had been sighted. "Of course, they were set," Mr. Klein said. "There isn't any doubt about it. There were too many fires, at points remote from the main fire, to have been caused by wind-blown embers."

Penalties Increased
Attention has been called to the fact that a recent legislative act increased the penalty for conviction of setting timber fires from $100 to $1,000 and one year imprisonment to five years. No arrests, however, have been made in connection with the recent fire.

At one time Mr. Klein had about 100 men on duty in the mountain. With the exception of seven or eight men, used one night, all of the fire crews came from industrial plants and companies in Frederick, LeGore, Woodsboro and Thurmont. Very few residents from the vicinity of the fire were used.

Very effective work was done on Tuesday night by a force of 32 colored men, secured by Marshall Palmer. The men were rushed to Catoctin Furnace by automobile and reached the fire scene at a time when they were most needed, Mr. Klein said.

1500 Acres Burned
Not more than 1,500 acres of timberland were burned over, Mr. Klein feels. Of this amount 1,000 was on the fishing creek watershed property, with several hundred acres belonging to Mr. Richey and Lancelot Jacques, a Cavetown, Maryland. Much of the land burned over was of scrub pine. The damage to heavy timber was said to be extensive.

Crews went into the mountains during the fire well equipped for their work. Mr. Klein stated. There was an adequate supply of rakes, brush hooks, torches and canteens. This equipment greatly enhanced the effectiveness of the men and was the means of preventing greater damage to timber sections.

Yellow Jackets Rout 'Em
Perhaps the only "casualties" sustained by the fire-fighters aside from minor bruises and cuts were those of a crew of city workmen. They ran into a nest of yellow jackets, which scattered the entire band. Before the men could make their escape a number had been stung four or five times.

HOME FROM CONVENTION

Harman Spence, Orrtanna, and John Dotterer, Gettysburg, have returned from the annual state convention of the Order of Independent Americans at Norristown this week. Mr. Spence was secretary of the credentials committee of the convention, and Mr. Dotterer represented Battleground council, 717, delegate.

York Nurse, Shot By Jilted Suitor, Lived Here; Youth Suicides

Miss Florence Ramer, Visiting Nurse Of York, Formerly Resided In Gettysburg; Father Is Brother Of Local Men; Both Parents Were Born In This Vicinity.

The condition of Miss Florence E. Ramer, York visiting nurse, and a former resident of Gettysburg, who was shot three times by an unknown assailant, believed by police to be William Schweitzer, remains critical according to information from the York hospital.

Schweitzer, 24, a former suitor of Miss Ramer, who is reported to have been jilted by the young woman, was found dead at West's dam, four miles from York, Friday night. Schweitzer's body was found near the automobile in which he is believed to have fled after he is said by police to have fired the three shots into Miss Ramer's body.

The young woman's father, Charles Ramer, formerly conducted a bakery shop on Chambersburg street, near Washington street. He is a brother of Jacob Ramer, battlefield guide, and A. W. Ramer, Chambersburg street, proprietor of a lunch room.

Mrs. Ramer, mother of the girl, was formerly Miss Edith Ertter. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ramer were both born and raised in this vicinity and resided in Gettysburg for many years. Several years ago Charles Ramer moved to York where he conducted a clothing store for some time.

Coroner L. U. Zech, of York, said that Schweitzer had committed suicide. He died of internal injuries caused by three bullet wounds in the chest. The bullets were of the same type as those fired into Miss Ramer's body, the coroner said.

SNOW FALLS IN 3 STATES

Wyoming, Nebraska And South Dakota Hit; Cars, Planes Are Delayed.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 7 (AP).—With no relief in sight and snow falling in Denver and other points in the Rocky Mountain region the threat of winter today assumed a certainty. Temperatures ranging from 24 to 39 degrees, the lowest in this region at this time of the year in forty years, were reported.

Weather bureaus throughout the region forecast a continuation of the unseasonable cold, issued frost warnings and forecast snow.

Leadville, Colorado, reported surrounding mountains were topped with snow. Pikes Peak was under an inch blanket and a snow-plow was employed to clear the cog road to the summit. The auto road up the peak was blocked.

Fourteen inches of snow were reported in southern Wyoming.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Sept. 7 (AP).—An advance showing of the winter styles in weather was in evidence throughout Wyoming, with snow ranging from a trace to fourteen inches, a continuation of the fall in prospect and freezing temperatures reported from several sections.

Motor traffic was seriously impaired along roads in the outlying districts and scores of automobiles were stalled.

Mail Planes Held Up
Five inches of snow fell in Casper in six hours. The storm approached blizzard proportions between Rock Springs and Pineblake. Snow was holding westbound air-mail planes in Cheyenne and Laramie. Ships were unable to get over the treacherous Sherman Hill, menace of aviators, because of poor visibility and low ceiling.

Cheyenne was experiencing its earliest snowfall within memory. Telephone service was out of commission at Wheatland, where ice three inches thick had formed on the wires.

Fourteen inches of snow fell in the Fox Park district. Albany was buried under a foot of snow. The lookout station at Brooklyn Lake stated the forest was covered with four inches.

Freezing In Nebraska
Omaha, Neb., Sept. 7 (AP).—Snow lay from one to four inches deep in parts of Western Nebraska and the Black Hills region of South Dakota. Temperatures ranged near freezing and in some places dropped below.

Hay Springs, Neb., had the lowest temperature, according to unofficial reports, the mercury there reaching 26 degrees. Four inches of snow fell there. Sleet, which turned to snow, fell at Gordon, Neb., with the mercury below freezing.

When he returned home, Eyster said, he picked up a newspaper and read of the shooting. Remembering the man by the roadside, he obtained a companion, O. N. Miller, garageman in New Salem, and returned. The pair found Schweitzer's body.

York police were notified of the discovery and city detectives with the York county coroner investigated. The body was found with the gun by its side. Three of the chambers of the revolver had been discharged. It was capable of carrying five cartridges and two of the chambers were still loaded.

Police believe the man had driven to West's dam immediately after shooting the girl, reloaded the revolver and killed himself.

Notice to employees. First opening day will be Wednesday, September 11. Orrtanna Canning Company.

Condition Is Serious
Miss Ramer is in a hospital and her condition is serious. She was shot three times, by Schweitzer after he told her "if he couldn't have her no one else would" during a brief conversation on a street corner in York, Friday. Following the shooting, Schweitzer jumped into a borrowed automobile and sped away.

Miss Ramer was on her way to assist at an operation when she was accosted by Schweitzer. He asked her to accompany him, but she replied that this was impossible, due to her need at the side of the patient about to be operated upon. Then Schweitzer drew a revolver, shot the girl, jumped into an automobile and sped away. Police chased him but lost the trail just outside the city limits.

Find Letters and Poem
One of the bullets entered the woman's right wrist, a second her abdomen, while the third imbedded in her spine. Two of the bullets were found in her clothing at the York hospital. The bullet that entered the abdomen made exit from the left side of her body, while the shot that entered her wrist came out on the opposite side, fracturing the wrist bone.

Police say they found letters in Schweitzer's room that indicated he and the York nurse were friendly. A love poem to the girl was among the letters. Schweitzer was married but was divorced last June.

Schweitzer was a former football star on the York high school team. He was employed in York by a chain drug store and was recently transferred to a store in Pottstown. The car he was driving was borrowed from a Pottstown friend. He told his friend he had to go to York on business.

While detectives were scouring the county for Schweitzer, word that his body had been found was brought to York headquarters.

Farmer Heard Shots
The statement of a farmer who lives near the scene of Schweitzer's suicide places the time of the fatal shooting at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon and evidence supplied by Stanley Eyster indicates that death was not instantaneous.

M. H. Gilbert, who has a farm at the foot of the hill at West's dam, said that he heard two shots during the afternoon but that he did not investigate. A short time later, Eyster, who was driving his automobile on the York-New Salem road, saw an automobile parked in some trees by the roadside and a man moving on the ground.

Eyster said that he thought the man was drunk and did not stop. Later, when he passed the same spot on his return home, Eyster said that he saw the same auto with the man, now quiet, lying about with thirty feet from the spot at which he observed him previously. He did not stop this second time.

When he returned home, Eyster said, he picked up a newspaper and read of the shooting. Remembering the man by the roadside, he obtained a companion, O. N. Miller, garageman in New Salem, and returned. The pair found Schweitzer's body.

York police were notified of the discovery and city detectives with the York county coroner investigated. The body was found with the gun by its side. Three of the chambers of the revolver had been discharged. It was capable of carrying five cartridges and two of the chambers were still loaded.

Police believe the man had driven to West's dam immediately after shooting the girl, reloaded the revolver and killed himself.

Notice to employees. First opening day will be Wednesday, September 11. Orrtanna Canning Company.

Notice to fruit growers. Will begin buying apples at our plant Monday, September 9. Solicit hauling now from Orttanna certain growers so we can give better service throughout the season. Orrtanna Canning Company.

TWO PAIRS OF EYES

It usually takes two pairs of eyes these days to see all the way around a financial problem. You want your bank, first of all, to see your problems through your own eyes. That calls for sympathy and understanding. ¶ Something more is needed. That is for you to have the advantage of seeing the possibilities of your ambition through the bank's eyes. ¶ Thus you gain the advantage of widely varied experience and the guidance of seasoned banking judgment. That is the service we offer you. And there's Profit in that co-operation for both of us.

Perhaps we could be of some special help or service to you today?

Sun Scald On Some Apples Here

According to orchardists in this section, a few of the Grimes Golden apples are showing the effect of the hot summer by sun scald. The scald, however, has not affected the flavor of the fruit for food, orchardists added. Only a few of the apples are affected this way and there is no cause for any alarm. It was explained that sun scald is the result of the extreme heat and drouth and is more in evidence in orchards which have not been given the best care, or where the foliage is not thick enough to protect the fruit. If a cool wave comes along soon, the effects of the sun scald on the fruit harvested later will not be noticed, one grower said.

MAROON GRID WARRIORS GET LONG WORKOUT

Coach Martin Sends High School Gridders Through Friday Grind

Toiling beneath a blazing sun for nearly two hours, the Gettysburg high school gridders were sent through their second workout Friday afternoon. Coach Martin felt it unnecessary to workout on a sloppy field Thursday with three and possibly four weeks until the opening game and granted a holiday.

Starting Monday, practices are expected to be held daily regardless of climatic conditions. Carlisle high, which looms as the possible opening team for the Maroons, has been at a training camp for nearly two weeks, and Martin will have to work to be able to meet them on even terms.

Many players reported with sore muscles on Friday, but after some setting-up exercises, these started to disappear. Most of the players are in excellent condition and stood up well under the long grind. Handling the ball, charging and passing again featured the drill. The first signal drill was also held. Coach Martin giving his lads one play, which was rehearsed several times.

Light Scrim Soon

Gym suits and football pants formed the uniform for most players, but Martin served notice that next week work would become gradually harder. No doubt "dummy" practice will start soon and it is likely a light scrimmage may be indulged in late next week.

Several husky boys from the rural districts are out for football this year and will give their teammates stiff struggles for positions. Fred Haehnlein has been assisting Coach Martin, devoting his time to these newcomers. From the prospects now, the Maroons will have a strong, husky line with a light speedy backfield.

The following schedule has been arranged for the little Bullets. September 28, open, at home. October 5, Carlisle, away. October 12, Columbia, away. October 19, Mechanicsburg, at home. October 26, Chambersburg, at home. November 2, Shippensburg, away. November 9, Reading, away. November 16, New Cumberland, away. November 28, Lebanon, away.

150 DROWN

Helsingfors, Finland, Sept. 7 (AP)—150 persons, mostly school boys and girls, drowned today when a Finnish steamer sank in a heavy storm while plying its regular route from the town of Tampere to the village of Kuru.

Only 50 of the 200 passengers were saved.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

A marriage license was issued by W. A. Geiselman, clerk of the courts, Friday, to Solomon Goldfischer, of Bayonne, New Jersey, and Sarah Marion Buzen, of New York City.

Save Entombed Miner After 42 Hours Underground

Ottumwa, Iowa, Sept. 7 (AP)—Wilkins Priest, imprisoned for 42 hours in a caved-in well here was released at 6 a. m. today. He cried for water as he was brought on a cot to the surface of a shaft which workers had started yesterday morning.

Workers had toiled incessantly since Thursday morning when Priest was buried under rocks and sand when the curbing of a 35-foot well crumbled while he was cleaning it.

Although Priest's voice was weak, his eyes were open and he apparently was rational despite his trying ordeal when brought to the surface.

A physician made a hasty examination and said Priest's legs were paralyzed by the pressure of the debris.

Sidelights of New York

By Richard Massock

New York — Neighbor J. P. Morgan is having his garage painted.

The garage is not behind the house, as one might suppose, but in the next block below on Madison avenue, next door to the rectory of the Episcopal Church of the Incarnation.

No wheels have rolled over the driveway behind the Morgan mansion in years. The former stable is kept locked, perhaps out of sentimental regard for the old Irish coachman who used to drive down to Wall street to pick up the testy old J. Pierpont Morgan, father of the family's present head.

For the Morgan family, in this age of realism, remains sentimental.

Family Block

None of the Morgans has attended the Church of the Incarnation, where Admiral Farragut used to worship, since Mrs. J. P. Morgan, wife of family's present head, died some years ago. Mrs. Morgan sometimes went there because of friendship for the Rev. H. Percy Silver, its rector. But the family's church is on St. George's, down on Sixteenth avenue.

The Morgans, father, sons and aunts, maintain their own little community in Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh streets, between Park and Madison avenue. This section of mid-Manhattan is known as Murray Hill.

On the Madison avenue side is the elder Morgan's house and the annex of his private library. House and annex, with a formal garden between, occupy the whole Madison frontage.

The library itself extends eastward along the south side of Thirty-sixth to the home of Herbert L. Satterlee, whose wife is J. P. Morgan's sister, Louisa Pierpont Morgan.

Across the street, at 30 East Thirty-sixth, is the home of Junius S. Morgan, the eldest son. Mrs. Juliet Hamilton, another sister of the father, owns No. 32. Henry Sturgis Morgan, the younger son, lives at No. 30, in a new, four-story brick house. All the other mansions are holdovers from the brownstone era.

Kept Involuntarily

The Morgans all have country estates, where they live most of the time. The father is in his town house, an immense, ornate structure, only about a month out of the year, now that his wife is dead. The rest of the time is passed at Matinecock Point, Long Island.

But he has always endeavored to keep his neighborhood intact against the encroachment of tall apartments and office buildings. He has bought several nearby houses and vainly tried to acquire others, including that next to the Satterlee mansion on the Park avenue corner. But it is said the Lyman Delanos, an old family, who live there, have steadfastly refused to sell.

Across the street, where the younger Morgans live, the entire block is supposedly owned by the Morgans, excepting a modern, but unwelcome apartment house at the western end and the Park avenue corner of William Church Osborn, the lawyer.

The Morgans' opposition to change extends even to the family's bank, at Broad and Wall streets. When it became necessary to expand the quarters, a tall annex was built behind the original two-story structure, which now squats, like a diminutive, headless sphinx, among the towering pyramids of finance.

Sun Scald On Some Apples Here

According to orchardists in this section, a few of the Grimes Golden apples are showing the effect of the hot summer by sun scald. The scald, however, has not affected the flavor of the fruit for food. Orchardists added, only a few of the apples are affected this way and there is no cause for any alarm. It was explained that sun scald is the result of the extreme heat and drought and is more in evidence in orchards which have not been given the best care, or where the foliage is not thick enough to protect the fruit. If a cool wave comes along soon, the effects of the sun scald on the fruit harvested later will not be noticed, one grower said.

Hoover To Leave Capital In October

Washington, Sept. 7 (AP)—President Hoover has decided definitely to leave Washington toward the end of October but the cities he will visit and the length of time he will be gone are still to be determined. The chief executive hopes to visit the newly constructed locks on the Ohio river. He also is thinking of attending the opening of the Edison laboratory in Detroit.

MAROON GRID WARRIORS GET LONG WORKOUT

Coach Martin Sends High School Gridders Through Friday Grind

Toiling beneath a blazing sun for nearly two hours, the Gettysburg high school gridders were sent through their second workout Friday afternoon. Coach Martin felt it unnecessary to workout on a sloppy field Thursday with three and possibly four weeks until the opening game and granted a holiday.

Starting Monday, practices are expected to be held daily regardless of climatic conditions. Carlisle high, which looms as the possible opening team for the Maroons, has been at a training camp for nearly two weeks, and Martin will have to work to be able to meet them on even terms.

Many players reported with sore muscles on Friday, but after some setting-up exercises, these started to disappear. Most of the players are in excellent condition and stood up well under the long grind. Handling the ball, charging and passing again featured the drill. The first signal drill was also held. Coach Martin giving his lads one week, which was rehearsed several times.

Light-Scrimme Soon

Gym suits and football pants formed the raiment for most players, but Martin served notice that next week work would become gradually harder. No doubt "dummy" practice will start soon and it is likely a "light scrimmage" may be indulged in late next week. Several husky boys from the rural districts are out for football this year and will give their teammates stiff struggles for positions. Fred Hachner has been assisting Coach Martin, devoting his time to these newcomers. From the prospects now, the Marimans will have a strong, husky line with a light speedy backfield.

The following schedule has been arranged for the little Bullets. September 28, open, at home. October 5, Carlisle, away. October 12, Columbia, away. October 19, Mechanicsburg, at home. October 26, Chambersburg, at home. November 2, Shippensburg, away. November 9, Reading, away. November 16, New Cumberland, away. November 23, Lebanon, away.

Sidelights of New York

By Richard Massock

New York—Neighbor J. P. Morgan is having his garage painted.

The garage is not behind the house, as one might suppose, but in the next block below on Madison avenue, next door to the rectory of the Episcopal Church of the Incarnation.

No wheels have rolled over the driveway behind the Morgan mansion in years. The former stable was kept locked, perhaps out of sentimental regard for the old Irish coachman who used to drive down to Wall street to pick up the testy old J. Pierpont Morgan, father of the family's present head.

For the Morgan family, in this age of realism, remains sentimental.

Family Block

None of the Morgans has attended the Church of the Incarnation, where Admiral Farragut used to worship, since Mrs. J. P. Morgan, wife of family's present head, died some years ago. Mrs. Morgan, sometimes went there because of friendship for the Rev. H. Percy Silver, its rector. But the family's church is on St. George's, down on Sixteenth avenue.

The Morgans, father, sons and aunts, maintain their own little community in Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh streets, between Park and Madison avenue. This section of mid-Manhattan is known as Murray Hill.

On the Madison avenue side is the elder Morgan's house and the annex of his private library, house and annex, with a formal garden, between, occupy the whole Madison frontage.

The library itself extends eastward along the south side of Thirty-sixth to the home of Herbert L. Satterlee, whose wife is J. P. Morgan's sister, Louisa Pierpont Morgan.

Across the street, at 30 East Thirty-sixth, is the home of Junius S. Morgan, the eldest son. Mrs. Juliet Hamilton, another sister of the father, owns No. 32. Henry Sturgis Morgan, the younger son, lives at No. 38, in a new, four-story brick house. All the other mansions are holdovers from the brownstone era.

Kept Involate

The Morgans all have country estates, where they live most of the time. The father is in his town house, an immense, ornate structure, only about a month out of the year, now that his wife is dead. The rest of the time is passed at Mar-a-Lago, Long Island.

But he has always endeavored to keep his neighborhood intact against the encroachment of tall apartments and office buildings. He has bought several nearby houses and vainly tried to acquire other, including that next to the Satterlee mansion on the Park avenue corner. But it is said the Lyman Delanos, an old family, who live there, have steadfastly refused to sell.

Across the street, where the younger Morgans live, the entire block is supposedly owned by the Morgans, excepting a modern, but unwelcome apartment house at the western end and the Park avenue corner of William Church Osborn, the lawyer.

The Morgans' opposition to change extends even to the family's bank at Broad and Wall streets. When it became necessary to expand the quarters, a tall annex was built behind the original two-story structure, which now squats, like a diminutive, headless sphinx, among the towering pyramids of finance.

Save Entombed Miner After 42 Hours Underground

Ottumwa, Iowa, Sept. 7 (AP)—Wilkins Priest imprisoned for 42 hours in a cave-in well here was released at 6 a. m. today. He cried for water as he was brought on a cot to the surface of a shaft which workers had started yesterday morning.

Workers had toiled incessantly since Thursday morning when Priest was buried under rocks and sand when the curbing of a 35-foot well crumbled while he was cleaning it.

Although Priest's voice was weak, his eyes were open and he apparently was rational despite his trying ordeal when brought to the surface.

A physician made a hasty examination and said Priest's legs were paralyzed by the pressure of the debris.

HUGE 'PLANE' PASSES TESTS

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—The largest airplane ever to fly in America Friday took the air from the Delaware River at League Island and for more than twenty minutes answered to the controls with all the grace of a two-seater.

Weighing more than 17,000 pounds, empty, and equipped to carry thirty persons, including a crew of five, the huge craft, a Dornier Superal flying boat, climbed and turned in a manner which made veteran Navy pilots whistle in wonder.

At the controls was Captain Miguel Kryguel, a flyer whose sixteen years' experience includes service with the Russian and Spanish flying corps during the war.

With him as passengers and crew were Marshall S. Boggs, engineering inspector of the Aviation Branch of the United States Department of Commerce, Charles D. Williams, engineer of the Stout-D. and C. Air Line, Hans Debye Dornier expert mechanic, who with Kryguel accompanied the boat on its trip to this country from Germany, and four mechanics.

Launching the boat with its length of nearly eighty feet and its wing-spread of ninety-three feet, proved more of a task than flying it. Fear nearly three-quarters of an hour a score of workmen from the Naval Aircraft Factory, where the boat was assembled, maneuvered it down a runway into the river, where a launch was ready to tow it into deep water.

A half hour later the launch cast off. One of the plane's four 525-horsepower engines was started and a few minutes later the boat began taxiing down the river.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Full House: Every room in the Eagle hotel was occupied on Monday night and some of the guests were compelled to sleep on cots in the parlor which was fitted up as a temporary bedroom. Lincoln Post G. A. R. of Newark, New Jersey, 240 strong, occupied the majority of the rooms, while automobile parties contributed to make up the hotel's guests.

Returned from Europe: Mummasburg, Sept. 3.—The Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Berkey, after a year in Europe, arrived in New York August 28th. After a few days in New York and Philadelphia, they came on to Mummasburg, where they are visiting Mrs. Berkey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hartman. The year abroad was spent in study at Erlangen and Leipzig, and in travel through Germany, Italy and Switzerland.

533 Pupils in Public Schools: Five hundred and fifty-three pupils were enrolled in the Gettysburg public schools at the opening of the terms on Monday morning according to figures given out by Supervising Principal Prof. W. A. Burgeon.

In the high school building there are 110 pupils in the Meade building 165, in the High street building 251 and in the colored school 25. This year not one of the schools is overcrowded. The corps of teachers is good as it has been in the past and a most successful school year is anticipated.

Made Engine Out of Pump: Working on his father's farm near Mummasburg, and using an old pump as his first material, David W. Batterman, son of D. F. Batterman, has invented a new reversible gasoline engine which is proving to be a remarkable success. The engine has been patented and is being sold faster than it can be manufactured.

The boy who is but eighteen years of age never worked in a machine shop and this was his first experience at working with engines of any kind.

A partnership has been formed for their manufacture, the boy's father, D. F. Batterman, being president, and C. H. Musselman, of Biglerville, secretary and treasurer, and the youthful inventor, the superintendent. A fifty horse power engine can be constructed so that it will occupy a space only four by six feet.

Tag Day:—The tag day scheme was successfully carried out by the high school alumni on Monday, between $60 and $70 being cleared on the piano fund.

Council Grants Franchise to New Trolley:—At the regular monthly meeting of the Gettysburg town council a franchise was granted to a proposed trolley company represented by W. H. Landis, of the McSherrystown Street Railway company. The franchise provides for the line entering Gettysburg at the Eastern Boundary of town, about 2000 feet south of the Bonneville bridge. From there it runs through the lands of S. McC. Swope, W. C. Sheely, D. M. Wolf, W. T. Ziegler and E. P. Sachs.

The trolley people asked for a franchise allowing them to run to the center of the square but it was found impossible to grant this owing to the privilege granted to Post 3 many years ago of erecting a monument in a plot at the middle of the diamond to the Adams countians who saw service in the Civil War.

Brief Notes:—Rev. Dr. Wills and daughter, of Washington, D. C., were guests at the home of William Irvin on Baltimore street last week. Mrs. J. D. Spahr, of York, is visiting at the home of John Blocher on Carlisle street.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEWS ADAMS

BEFORE BREAKFAST

1 READ the other day of a man who said he didn't want to see or talk with anyone before breakfast. He said that he was always too cross. After he had eaten, however, he claimed he was fairly agreeable!

Well, if that chap doesn't die of stomach trouble long before his time, I miss my guess! For who can live healthily and pour into his system his self-created poison?

This breakfast of ours, in my judgment, must be the happiest of them all, no matter how simple or humble it may be. The beginning of everything is all important, and breakfast must be no exception to the rule.

If I am unhappy at breakfast time, somehow, my whole day has been discolored. One reason why for years I have made it a habit to read happy and pleasant things before going to my bed at night is that I may sleep restfully and healthily. I wish this habit upon all who find it difficult to fall asleep easily! Read something fine and splendid until you get drowsy. Then hop into bed at once—and have "pleasant dreams."

I always have fresh fruit of some kind for breakfast whenever it can be had. I like to think of that fruit out upon the tree—the blossoms that preceded it, of the bees that stole a little of its sweetness away, and of the fragrance that its flower spread upon the air before it came the apple, or orange, or berry.

And then when I partake of my cereals, I think of the big fields from which the grains grew. I think of the time when I used to sit upon the cultivator, and with a team of horses, dug up the ground about those fields of grain. In other words, I like to dream a little as I eat my breakfast.

But if you fail to put yourself in a happy frame of mind as you sit down to this briefest, though most important of meals, you are only storing up trouble that is going to crop out somehow, sometime during the day that you face.

Some how or other the orange juice finds a smoother path into a calm, happy stomach!

THE KING

He had a crown upon his head,
A robe upon his back,
No one could guess, to note his dress,
Men ever called him Jack.

He sat upon a golden throne,
And ruled with pomp and power,
Men stood about to carry out
His orders for the hour.

"Oh, worthy king!" men said to him,
"And audience we pray!"
The king inquires: "What is it,
sires,

That you come here to say?"
He rises, and the organ sounds,
And vested choir boys sing:
"How glorious and victorious,
How glorious is our king!"

But bedtime comes to kings and men,
That hour no man can dodge,
His wife says: "Jack, I'm glad you're back;
I hate these nights for lodge."

THE KING
And ruled with pomp and power,
Men stood about to carry out
His orders for the hour.

dramas have been so successful here that the Royal Dramatic Theater of Stockholm plans to present a number of them in the coming season. Among those listed for the Swedish stage are William Hurlbut's "Hidden," Maxwell Anderson's "What Price Glory" and

O'Neill's "Emperor Jones."

Munich (AP)—A new opera "Dorian Gray," by C. L. Fick-Steger, a former resident of New York, has been accepted for production by the municipal opera at Ausg, Czechoslovakia. It is based upon a novel by Oscar Wilde and will have its premier this winter.

Havana (AP)— Mayor Mignel

Mariano Gomez recently asked the city council to appropriate $3,440.235.10 with which to pay up the municipality's electric light bill. It has been in arrears for years and the Cuban Electric Company is said to have become uneasy about the account.

Prominent Frederick Co. Farmer Is Feeling Better Each Day

Used to suffer day and night with stomach—Was always constipated—Afraid to eat. Now praises Natex.

"I used to suffer so with my stomach that I was actually afraid to eat at times," says Mr. George D. Lease, a prominent farmer living on Route 1, Walkersville, Maryland. "When I started reading so much in the papers about Natex I decided to take some of this medicine too and see if it wouldn't help me as it was helping so many others. Well sir, that was the best decision I could have made. I hadn't been taking Natex more than a week before I began to notice an improvement and as I continued on the treatment I began feeling better and better each day. It is one medicine I can honestly recommend to my neighbors and friends."

In fact, they scarcely ever moved of their own accord and I was compelled to take laxatives about every other night.

Out of the Past

Happenings of Days Gone by and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times, the Files—Reveal.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Full House: Every room in the Eagle hotel was occupied on Monday night and some of the guests were compelled to sleep on cots in the parlor which was fitted up as a temporary bedroom. Lincoln Post
C. A. R. of Newark, New Jersey, 269 strong, occupied the majority of the rooms, while automobile parties contributed to make up the hotel's guests.

Returned from Europe: Mummasburg, Sept. 3.—The Rev. and Mrs.
H. E. Berkey, after a year in Europe, arrived in New York August 24th. After a few days in New York and Philadelphia, they came on to Mummasburg, where they are visiting Mrs. Berkey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hartman. The year abroad was spent in study at Erlangen and Leipzig, and in travel through Germany, Italy and Switzerland.

553 Pupils in Public Schools:
Five hundred and fifty-three pupils were enrolled in the Gettysburg public schools at the opening of the term on Monday morning according to figures given out by Superintendent Principal Prof. W. A.
Burgoon.

In the high school building there are 110 pupils, in the Meade building, 165, in the High Street building 251 and in the colored school 23.
This year not one of the schools is overcrowded. The corps of teachers is good as it has been in the past and a most successful school year is anticipated.

Made Engine Out of Pump:
Working on his father's farm near Mummasburg, and using an old pump as his first material, David W. Batterman, son of D. F. Batterman, has invented a new reversible gasoline engine which is proving to be a remarkable success. The engine has been patented and is being sold faster than it can be manufactured.

The boy who is but eighteen years of age never worked in a machine shop and this was his first experience at working with engines of any kind.
A partnership has been formed for their manufacture, the boy's father, D. F. Batterman, being president, and C. H. Musselman, of Biglerville, secretary and treasurer, and the youthful inventor, the superintendent. A fifty horse power engine can be constructed so that it will occupy a space only four by six feet.

Tag Day.—The tag day scheme was successfully carried out by the high school alumni on Monday, between $60 and $70 being cleared on the piano fund.

Council Grants Franchise to New Trolley.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Gettysburg town council a franchise was granted to a proposed trolley company represented by W. H. Landis, of the Mc-Sherrytown Street Railway company. The franchise provides for the line entering Gettysburg at the Eastern boundary of town, about 2000 feet south of the Bonneauville bridge. From there it runs through the lands of S. McC. Swope, W. C. Sheely, D. M. Wolf, W. T.
Ziegler and E. P. Sachs.
The trolley people asked for a franchise allowing them to run to the center of the square but it was found impossible to grant this owing to the privilege granted to Post 9 many years ago of erecting a monument in a plot at the middle of the diamond to the Adams cousinians who saw service in the Civil War.

Brief Notes.—Rev. Dr. Wills and daughter, of Washington, D. C., were guests at the home of William Irvin on Baltimore street last week.
Mrs. J. D. Spahr, of York, is visiting at the home of John Blocher on Carlisle street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Billheimer, of Little Rock Arkansas, are visiting at the home of the former's brother, Dr. T. C. Billheimer, on Springs avenue.

Samuel M. Bushman and niece,
Miss Helen Stock, Miss Mary Power and Miss Blanche Bushman, have left on a tour through New York to Niagara Falls and Canada.

Miss Hazel Wavell, of Steinwehr avenue, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Izer, of Fairfield.

Miss Mabel Grenoble has returned after spending a week at Atlantic City.

Miss Alice Miller, Baltimore street, has left for a fifteen days' trip to Niagara Falls and other Canadian points of interest. Miss Miller will be accompanied from Harrisburg by her aunt.

William H. Wierman and son, of York, are spending a short time in Gettysburg.

Charles S. Duncan and family and Miss Nellie Weaver spent Friday afternoon in York.

Miss McKnight, of Pittsburgh, is a guest at the home of Mrs. Cox on Baltimore street.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Widder, Baltimore street, a daughter, Miss Margaret Koser, of Biglerville, was a Gettysburg visitor today.

Mrs. Ida Ziegler and children have returned home after a visit with relatives in Littlestown.

THE KING

He had a crown upon his head,
A robe upon his back,
No one could guess, to note his dress,
Men ever called him Jack.

He sat upon a golden throne,
And ruled with pomp and power,
Men stood about to carry out
His orders for the hour.

"Oh, worthy king!" men said to him,
"And audience we pray!"
The king inquired: "What is it,
sires,

"That you come here to say?"
He rises, and the organ sounds,
And vested choir boys sing:
"How glorious and victorious,
How glorious is our king!"
But bedtime comes to Kings and men.

"That hour no man can dodge,
His wife says: 'Jack, I'm glad you're back;
I hate these nights for lodge.'"

Dog Hill Paragraphs By GEORGE BINGHAM

The shoes of Washington Hicks are wearing out. His wife says it is the first time she ever heard tell of anybody wearing out their shoes sitting down.

The next time it looks like it is going to come a hard rain during ought to bring along their dish pans to set under the leaks.

O'Neill's "Emperor Jones."

Munich (AP)—A new opera "Dorian Gray," by C. L. Fleck-Steger, a former resident of New York, has been accepted for production by the municipal opera at Ausg.

Czechoslovakia. It is based upon a novel by Oscar Wilde and will have its premier this winter.

Havana (AP)—Mayor Mignel

Mariano Gomez recently asked the city council to appropriate $3,440-

TODAY'S TALK

BEFORE BREAKFAST

I READ the other day of a man who said he didn't want to see or talk with anyone before breakfast. He said that he was always too cross. After he had eaten, however, he claimed he was fairly agreeable!

Well, if that chap doesn't die of stomach trouble long before his time.
I miss my guess! For who can live healthily and pour into his system his self-created poison?

This breakfast of ours, in my judgment, must be the happiest of them all, no matter how simple or humble it may be. The beginning of everything is all important, and breakfast must be no exception to the rule.

If I am unhappy at breakfast time, somehow, my whole day has been discolored. One reason why for years I have made it a habit to read happy and pleasant things before going to my bed at night is that I may sleep restfully and healthily. I wish this habit upon all who find it difficult to fall asleep easily! Read something fine and splendid until you get drowsy. Then hop into bed at once—and have "pleasant dreams."

I always have fresh fruit of some kind for breakfast whenever it can be had. I like to think of that fruit upon the tree—the blossoms that preceded it, of the bees that stole a little of its sweetness away, and of the fragrance that its flower spread upon the air before it came the apple, or orange, or berry.

And then when I partake of my cereals, I think of the big fields from which the grain grew. I think of the time when I used to sit upon the cultivator, and with a team of horses, dug up the ground about those fields of grain. In other words, I like to dream a little as I eat my breakfast.

But if you fail to put yourself in a happy frame of mind as you sit down to this briefest, though most important of meals, you are only sowing up trouble that is going to crop out somehow, sometime during the day that you face.

Some how or other the orange juice finds a smoother path into a palm, happy stomach!

PONTIAC BIG SIX

PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

Without a single exception, the Pontiac Big Six is the fastest, most powerful six of its price available today.
Its sturdy, 200 cubic inch, L-head engine develops 60 horsepower at moderate engine speed. Its speed and acceleration are the fastest to be found in any low-priced six, according to the "fifth wheel"—the most accurate speed measuring device known to automotive engineers.
Unquestionably, today's Pontiac Big Six is the performance leader of its price field—and the style and value leader as well.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list (f. o. b.) price, when comparing automobile values. Oakland-Fordiac delivered prices include only motor, load charges for freight and delivery and the charge for any additional accessories or financing desired.

United Founders Corp.

Primary purpose of this corporation is to acquire minority or controlling interests in securities of investment companies. Unlike the American Founders Corp. and its affiliated companies, which are under restrictions as to investments, this organization has broad powers, being empowered to participate in underwritings and syndicates, to furnish financial assistance to corporations in connection with their financing, consolidation or reorganization, and to deal in securities in general. It now holds effective working control of American Founders Corp., and through that has large interest in the entire group of affiliated companies. Also holds approximately a one-third interest in United National Corp. of Seattle, which controls a large group of diversified companies in the Pacific Northwest, also will have a substantial interest in the new PUBLIC UTILITY HOLDING CORPORATION OF AMERICA. Details of this public utility holding and investment corporation were announced this week by the HARRIS FORBES CORPORATION which jointly with the AMERICAN FOUNDERS CORPORATION and UNITED FOUNDERS CORPORATION is sponsoring the new company.

Invested capital on June 30th, 1929 was over 147,000,000 represented by 50,000,000 on call and $96,980,000 cost value of investments. Market value of investments on July 25th was $109,682,000.

We wish to go on record as recommending, at this time the purchase of the common Stock of the United FOUNDERS CORPORATION at about 70% per share.
